Matt Y. Speaks:

To the one who wrote last cycle's trash talk. I am assuming that's the one I'll call A.S.

You say I won't be remembered? Are you kidding me? I am THE talk of this game! Who in their right mind would be so dedicated as to run 550 wrestlers? I'm not ashamed, I have nothing to be ashamed of! Just because other managers choose to run a puny roster of 200 wrestlers, or less, is not my fault.

And in case you haven't figured it out yet, I am currently on pace to not only break EQ's record for points in a year, but break it with ease. 300 points/cycle is all it takes, and I get roughly that most cycles, sometimes lower, sometimes higher. A couple times, a bit higher. Between multis and singles, I always have hope. Look at last cycle, I finished with one measly 501, but still managed to get 295 points. Have you ever gotten 295 points? Please, don't answer that.

And if you think I'm no good, keep in mind, I got to the end of my first round of the BOTB tournament. This against a manager who is considered pretty good. He himself gave me credit for the series, it came down to the wire. He got World tag that last cycle, not much you can do about that. My challenge, if you think you're all that, and you're better than me, how about a series? Triple threat, best of seven? What's another 5 wrestlers added to my roster? I'm open to another series. No BOTB, just for fun. But if you want to put something on the line, I am always listening. Whether you accept or not, get back to me, either through next cycle's bulletin, or through email. If you're who I think you are, your stablemates know my email.

I await your answer...
