

THE IWA REPORT

Volume 31, Number 4 • March 2026

Johnny B Says

Okay, who's up for some spring cleaning? Don't worry, I'm not looking for volunteers to dust and vacuum IWA Headquarters... I'm talking about scrubbing some of those pesky losses off your wrestlers' records!

Next cycle (and only next cycle), include a note with your matches and strategy changes reading, "Remove 20 losses from my wrestler, ID #123." Choose up to 20 losses, and use your wrestler's ID number in place of 123 (unless it actually is 123, of course!).

Separate the request from your trash talk by skipping some space, so we don't overlook it. Each loss removal will result in a deduction of $25,000 from your wrestler's imaginary money, so they must have at least $500K to drop the maximum of 20. They must also be active, so don't forget to sign at least one singles match for them.

This opportunity only comes around once a year, so don't miss it!

Longtime manager Kevin Elrod pointed out that when wrestlers are disqualified from Stablecade because their group didn't enter at least five members, their managers shouldn't have to pay the entrance fee — after all, how is it their fault if their stablemates failed to show? There have been 49 poor deserted souls since 2022 (when we began publishing the full list of entrants and, thus, could track them), and we will be issuing IWA credit to any affected players still in the game. Kevin will be receiving a big $5 refund, but just like Uncle Sam, we won't be paying him interest on the money we were borrowing from him.

Stablecade 2026

There were 11 stables competing this year, and the Arrogant Empire had the best average — by less than half a point! — so their participating members each took home a check for $100,000. A total of 584 wrestlers signed up for the event, but five were disqualified because their group didn't enter at least five. The names of the five Æ winners with the best strategies are marked with an asterisk below, and a full list of every contest entrant is available on the Results page at PlayIWA.com.
