

THE IWA REPORT

Volume 26, Number 7 • May 2021

Johnny B Says

As promised, State Wrestling is back to find 50 new champions! Check your envelope for the sign-up form, or grab the PDF from the Results page of our website. Include your entries with your matches for the upcoming June cycle, and remember that UWL wrestlers are not allowed to participate, since they actually belong to another league (our thanks to manager Jeff Brown for the reminder).

Congratulations to manager "The Game," who fought his way to a 10th career World Championship this cycle! That incredible accomplishment makes him the fifth player in IWA history to reach that mark. Who will be next?

I'm afraid the final announcement this time is not a happy one. All of us here at IWA Headquarters were shocked and saddened to learn that we lost longtime manager Brandy Willis on April 5th. Her main wrestler for most of her career was Brandy Cole, who competed in the LSL and the AWL. Among other family and friends, she is survived by her husband, Shane Cole, and their son, both of whom are also IWA players.

Shane wanted to share the following words with her many fans: "Brandy loved writing trash talk and winning the few titles that she did. Her happiest time was winning the tag-team titles. She was too young to leave us at 31. She always thought of the LSL as her home, since she was there from the beginning of the league. She did multiple interviews with its management, IWA Flip and Lucky Stars. The LSL is holding a tournament in her honor, with the winner receiving a trophy! Please don't let her name and honor be forgotten. Brandy Cole, you'll be missed and NEVER forgotten."

Our thoughts are with Shane and his family during this difficult time.

World, U.S., King of the Ring

World Champion

COT: "Beautiful" Barrack Obama (WEW) "The Game" from Parts Unknown; 501; $250,000 + 75 free matches or a real wrestling belt & 25 free matches, 10 free matches for WEW managers next cycle; manager's 10th career World title

Johnny B is sitting at home, watching the conclusion of the IWA's May TLC Pay-Per-View, which just ended with the crowning of a brand new IWA World Champion, COT's "Beautiful" Barrack Obama! Grabbing a handful of Cheetos, he stuffs them into his mouth as he watches the cameras following Barrack back to the dressing room with the World title slung over his shoulder. As the doors fly open, a raucous celebration can be seen within with a host of Tyrant managers, IWA staff, and others. John Davis, Wade Reinhard, Chris Stevens, and Chris Miller can be seen slamming shots of tequila down in one corner of the room after screaming, "CHEERS!" to Barrack, while Steven M. Shotliff can be seen hustling some IWA staff members in a game of darts in another corner. Jim "Hellwig" Gabbard and Peter Houston are up on a makeshift stage, gyrating around as they sing a terrible karaoke version of "We Are the Champions." Oddly enough, "The Game" Tony Pesante is nowhere to be seen, nor is Kim, which causes Johnny to breathe a sigh of relief. After the last World title celebration back in December, he was glad that Tony wasn't upset about the botched entrance, and he shudders after remembering how Kim's spiked fruit punch gave him a two-day hangover that he won't soon forget.

"Ah well, let's see what else is on the tube," Johnny says to himself as he changes the channel to ESPN's SportsCenter. A Tom Brady commercial is playing, showing TB12's latest line of "7" tee-shirts after winning his last Superbowl. As the "7" tee-shirt logo flashes across the screen along with the words "TB12 G.O.A.T.," the video freezes out. Baffled, Johnny tries to change the channel, but nothing happens. For 10 seconds or so, the screen is dark, until it freezes back to life. And to Johnny's surprise, Brady's TB12 "7" G.O.A.T. logo is no longer on the screen: it has been replaced by two new ones, which really doesn't surprise him one bit...

[Editor's note: one logo reads "TP3," while the other shows the number 10 made of flames.]
