

Queen of the Ring #5

In 2023, the 5th Queen of the Ring will grow beyond the BWL and beyond the borders of the IWAR Network to become an IWA-wide event.

The set up is simple, one wrestler per player, so the active members of the BWL roster will automatically entered into this event. If a player would prefer to have their wrestler in a different Federation be their official entry, they can request that. (i.e. if Mike Drake would prefer to have Penny Punk's VUL strategy be the one that counts over Penny Punk's BWL strategy, that can be done.)

The scoring is straight forward, no matter the Federation or league, it is the total strategy value in their league for that cycle that will count toward the Queen of the Ring event. After the Jade results have been revealed, the scores will be tallied and the top half of the field will advance on to the next round. If the field is 40 wrestlers, then the top 20 will advance. If there are ties, we will advance all who are tied for the last spot onto the next round. If it happens in the finals, we will refer back to the previous cycle's score until the tie is broken.

This set up will allow wrestlers from any league in the IWA, not just the official women's league's, but any league with a woman wrestler. Each player in the IWA may enter one wrestler. Those who run more than one female wrestler will have to choose which one they'd like to be their official entry into the 5th Queen of the Ring contest. Best of all, this is a free event, so all you need to do is enter your wrestler and we will take care of the rest.

The 5th Queen of the Ring's schedule is:

- 1st round - Spring cycle (May, 2nd)*
- 2nd round - May cycle (May, 23rd)*
- 3rd round - June cycle (June, 13th)*
- Final round - Summer cycle (July, 4th)*

The winner of the Queen of the Ring will earn:

- $300,000.00 in imaginary money*
- The Queen of the Ring trophy*
- Cover of the IWAR Magazine*
- Championship match against the IWAR Women's World champion*
