

'TIS THE SEASON

(for hiding your face)

Do you love Halloween? Do you wish you could enjoy that special feeling all year long? If so, then you're reading exactly the right promotional flyer, my friend!

The Unknown Wrestler League is now accepting applications for its latest round. Every wrestler in this unique league is masked until they are eliminated — or until they reach the final bulletin! They're identified only as Masked Wrestler #36, Masked Wrestler #70, etc. You will receive the ID numbers of your wrestlers when you join. Keep them secret! The whole point of the UWL is that you know your own wrestlers' numbers, but everyone else's identity is a mystery. How cool would it be if you found out that the wrestler you were feuding with turned out to belong to one of your stablemates? Pretty cool, indeed.

Each cycle, the five lowest-ranked wrestlers must show their faces to the crowd, and then we show them the door. The League Champion has the option of forcing a sixth wrestler to attend the unmasking ceremony, but beware: if the manager of the wrestler you choose to eliminate still has grapplers remaining in the league, you may have just painted a bullseye on your own back! Your victim may even take advantage of the fact that UWL battle royal winners receive a free League title shot the following cycle.

UWL wrestlers must belong to another league, and continue to compete in that league at the same time as this one. For that reason, their UWL strategies do not count toward any major titles, such as the IWA World Championship. However, if you end up wearing the League strap during the final cycle, you'll be awarded an engraved championship belt and 25 free matches! Your achievement will also be recognized in the IWA Report. Just ask Donald Henry, the most recent winner, how great that feels.

All records in the UWL start at 0-0 to avoid giving clues to anyone's identity. When a wrestler is eliminated, their wins (but not losses or ties), imaginary money, and stars are added to the stats in their original league — no tricks, all treat!

You may enter up to six of your existing (so to speak) wrestlers in the UWL. Neatly print the necessary information on the form below, or use a blank sheet of paper, or email it to us. Include the $1 fee for each wrestler, which entitles them to a battle royal entry during the first cycle, as well as one match against a random jobber. You may request that we have your wrestler face additional random jobbers at the usual prices.

This time, the UWL will use the Iron Federation hold values. The first elimination ceremony is scheduled for November 29th, so make sure we receive your envelope by then. After that date, no new wrestlers will be permitted to experience the fun of participating in this league (until the next iteration, that is, but that will likely be more than a year later).

Join today, and see if your wrestler has what it takes to be the final man/woman in the Iron mask!

I'm enclosing $1. Enter my wrestler in the Unknown Wrestler League!
